

Report on adherence to engagement policy 2024

Published 9 June 2025

Nordea Livförsäkring Sverige AB apply the Nordea Life & Pension Engagement Policy. The policy has been established together by Nordea Livförsäkring Sverige AB, Nordea Life Assurance Finland Ltd, Nordea Liv Forsikring AS and Nordea Pension, Livsforsikringselskab A/S, which together are referred to as Nordea Life & Pension, ("L&P").

This report is published to confirm adherence to the L&P Engagement policy during 2024.

Active ownership is an important part of L&P's responsible investment practices. L&P believes that engaging with its asset managers and investee companies, as well as exercising shareholder rights by voting to ensure strong environmental, social and corporate governance (ESG) practices, is an essential part in safeguarding the long-term interests of customers, shareholders and society at large.

Engagement

L&P is an asset owner and invests its assets mainly through funds. Therefore, our engagement activities are primarily focused on asset manager engagement, and secondly on engagement with companies. We take a risk-based approach when prioritizing asset managers to engage with and thematic engagement topics to cover. Our engagement activities always consider severity and relevance of issues. Engagement during the year has been both proactive and reactive.

Engagement with asset managers

Engaging with asset managers on requirements and ambition levels is an effective tool to drive positive change within the investment industry. In its role as an asset owner, L&P has the opportunity to make conscious choices when selecting asset managers in the first place. One example is L&P's expectations on asset managers to commit to achieving net zero by 2050 or sooner. At the end of 2024, 99,6 percent of L&P's in-scope assets under management were covered by such commitments, equivalent to 61 percent of the total number of asset managers. 100 percent of L&P's asset managers of liquid assets were committed to net zero by the end of the year, but among managers of illiquid assets the uptake had been slower than expected, especially in the US.

At the end of 2024 50 percent of managers of illiquid assets had made firm-wide commitments for all their assets, up from 7 percent in 2021. Given the slow uptake among managers of illiquid assets, L&P engaged during 2024 with the managers not yet committed to net zero. There were 17 in total, and investments in their products were made before L&P adopted its climate targets in 2021. Their climate work and approach were assessed with the conclusion that these illiquid asset managers showed different levels of ambition and concrete action. Based on the findings during the engagement and assessment process, the Board of Nordea Life Holding AB and L&P's executive management decided in Q4 2024 to not invest any additional capital with the asset managers that have not committed to net zero unless they change. The fund investments in question are illiquid and most of them are approaching the end-phase of the contracts. The Board and executive management therefore decided to exit these remaining investment funds in the coming years (0.3 percent of L&P managed AuM by the end of 2024) in a way that benefits L&P's customers, with end-2030 as the final exit date.

In addition to proactive asset manager engagement, we conduct reactive engagement with asset managers in cases of potential breaches to our Responsible Investment Policy identified through screening and other topical issues. Together with the asset manager we discuss expectations on corrections needed to be able to stay invested and create a joint understanding of expectations vis-à-vis companies regarding various topics. In 2024, cases regarded e.g. insufficient health and safety measures in the mining sector, net zero alignment assessments of high-emitting companies and fast evolving sectors such as big tech. In 2025, we will continue to monitor cases not yet closed.

Engagement with companies

The majority of L&P's assets are invested through funds and mandates where it is the asset managers who make the investment decisions and perform engagement activities in relation to underlying investee companies. When selecting asset managers L&P therefore performs a comprehensive due diligence process, where the managers' applied engagement principles and practices are assessed to ensure that they support and do not conflict with L&P's principles. The assessments are reviewed regularly, either as a standalone exercise or as an integral part of follow-up meetings where asset managers' portfolio management, including engagements and ESG-integration processes, are discussed and monitored.

Climate change is a prioritized topic for both L&P and Nordea. As part of L&P's net-zero strategy, L&P aims to ensure that its top-emitters in the portfolio L&P manages are covered by active engagements.

The top-50 emitters accounted for 50 percent of L&P's total financed emissions in 2024. In 2024, 88 percent of them were covered by active engagements by our asset managers. Based on our assessment of companies' net zero alignment, 40 percent of the top-50 emitters were either aligning or fully aligned with net zero emissions target at the end of the year.

Overall, our asset managers had ongoing active engagements with corporates covering more than 48 percent of the AuM invested in equities and corporate bonds in portfolios managed by L&P. These engagements covered different topics related to Environmental, Governance and Social (ESG) issues. More than 40 percent of the engagement cases concerned climate related issues, whereas biodiversity, human rights and good governance related issues each had a share of around 20 percent of the engagement cases.

Voting

As mentioned earlier, the vast majority of L&P's assets is invested in funds. In fund investments the shareholder rights of the investee companies are held by the fund and voting is based on the principles of the fund or its asset manager. When selecting and assessing funds and asset managers, L&P therefore ensures that the voting principles applied by the funds or asset managers are aligned and not in conflict with L&P's principles.

The vast majority of L&P's fund investments are in Nordea's funds. In 2024, Nordea Funds, another part of the Nordea Group, voted at around 3 550 different Annual General Meetings, covering more than 95 percent of the investee companies' shareholder meetings. Moreover, and they participated in 42 nomination committees in charge of evaluating and proposing board candidates. Voting regarded various items, including issues such as climate, diversity, remuneration programmes and capital mandates. In 2024, climate-related corporate governance activities by Nordea Funds revolved around topics such as climate-related governance, strategy, risk management, targets, disclosures and lobbying practices, to drive towards alignment with the Paris Agreement. L&P benefits from this work since we are invested in many of these companies indirectly through funds and since several other investee companies are potential future investments.

Since 2020 L&P has been in cooperation with the voting team of Nordea Funds with regards to our direct holdings. This has strengthened our voting coverage for directly held equities even though the amount of our direct equity holdings has been reduced. In 2024, on Nordic level we reached close to full coverage for votable proposals at annual general assembly and extraordinary meetings with L&P entities voting on almost 1 000 proposals (8 percent against management) including 38 votes on proposals related to environmental, social or corporate governance proposals (53 percent against management). Climate related proposals that we supported during the year covered issues such as science-based target adoption, disclosure of greenhouse gas emissions, physical and transition risks, climate transition planning and financial sector companies' exposure in clean energy vs. fossil fuel financing. Social and governance proposals covered topics such as transparency on lobbying, as well as equal pay, diversity, equity and inclusion and AI ethics.
